GREECE IN THROES OF REVOLUTION

GARRISON AND NAVY JOINED IN REVOLT; REPORT NO FIGHTING

General Pangalos Is Now
Proclaimed New President of Republic

London, June 25.—All Greece is in the throes of a revolution, a dispatch from Salonika, via Paris said today.

The revolutionists, the Salonika dispatch said, were in complete control. Officers of the garrison, under General Pangalos, established a military government and occupied all civil and military institutions. The navy joined in the revolt.

No reports of fighting were given in the dispatch.

Military leaders of the revolt issued a communiqué in which it was announced that the revolutionists control the situation throughout Greece and that no resistance is being encountered. The navy contingent, which joined in the movement, was led by Admiral Adikirikas. The admiral addressed the following telegram to the president of the republic:

"We proclaim that your government has fallen. We consider the council of ministers responsible for the spilling of fraternal blood."

Paris, June 25.—The Michalacopoulos government was deposed and General Pangalos, leader of the revolutionists was proclaimed the new president of the Greek republic, the newspaper "L'Indépendant de Salonic" announced today, according to advices to La Libre.

The army and navy co-operated in overthrowing the government, the dispatch added.

YOUTHS ARE VICTIMS OF DREAD LEPROSY; NEAR PANIC FOLLOWS

Brothers Afflicted Take Care Of
Selves—Doctors Say Disease
Not Spreading

Soho, N. J., June 2.—In a little cottage, isolated on the Essex County hospital grounds here today were two bright-faced schoolboys, victims, according to health authorities, of the most terrible scourge of Biblical times leprosy.

They are Hale George 13, and his brother, Frank, 11.

Discovery that they were suffering from the dread disease has caused a condition of near-panic in the community where they lived and mingled with hundreds of other boys and girls at the Avon avenue school, Newark.

A careful examination has revealed however, that none of the other children in the school are afflicted, according to the authorities. The George boys were born in Bermuda, and came to the U. S. six years ago. They are the sons of a stationary engineer.

In their little isolated cabin, they sweep, make their own beds, wash the dishes and otherwise care for themselves. Their only visitors are Dr.
F. A. Pringle, superintendent of the Hospital and Mary Metley, a nurse to give three treatments of chaulmoogra oil daily.

TWENTY OPERATED ON AT RED CROSS CLINIC THURSDAY MORNING

Under the auspices of the Greene County Chapter of the Red Cross, a tonsillectomy clinic was held at the hospital of Drs. Madden and Shields, Thursday morning.

Twenty patients, including two adults, were operated on for the removal of their tonsils and adenoids.
Dr. Reed Madden was assisted in operating by Drs. L. L. Taylor, Yellow Springs; M. I. Marsh, Cedarville; W. M. Hartinger, Spring Valley and Nancy Finney, Cedarville, Raymond Snodgrass, medical student also assisted.

Success of the clinic was due to the efforts of Miss Helen Evers, County Red Cross public health nurse, who enlisted the children for the clinic and gained the co-operation of the doctors of the county.

land Union Terminal Company was Commerce Commission to issue $15,

The bonds will be guaranteed by the railroads using the terminal.

MISS JUANITA ROUNDREE

TOWNSHIP MAY SOON BE ELIMINATED FROM GOVERNMENT OF OHIO

Legislative Tax Committee Studying Doing Away
With Subdivision

Columbus, June 25.—The township, once the bulwark of popular government in Ohio but whose importance is rapidly diminishing with the spread of urban population, may soon be eliminated or its functions drastically curtailed.

The possibility of the elimination of this unit of government is to be studied by experts of the special joint legislative tax committee who are busy just now gathering volumes of data on the machinery of Ohio tax laws and the working out of this system in digging into the people's pockets for money to pay the public bills.
The township may be offered up as a sacrifice to modernization and efficiency in government.

Ohio lawmakers seem to think that the taxpayer is not getting value received for his tax dollar and the inquiry is seeking to discover ways and means by which waste may be eliminated in efficient practices checked and the tax dollar spread over a greater production area.

One of the subjects which is to be given most serious attention by the investigators is the policy of installment buying of public improvements, whether roads, school houses or water mains—the bonding plan of payment. They were startled when their records showed that the ninety-three cities of the state owed $425, 000,000 in bonds on which annual interest payments will average around $20,000. They realize that bond issues always cost the public more than the aggregate of the original issue, sometimes twice and three times as much before the last dollar of interest and principal is paid off. There is expected to be a demand, as a result of the study, for more of the "pay-as-you-go" policy in such improvements.

Realizing the great importance of the public debt question in any study seeking greater economy in taxation, the committee has determined to make an exhaustive inquiry into the entire subject.

The approximate annual cost of all the public debt services in the state is now being studied, as well as the ratio to which the public debt can still be increased. Many communities are close to the limit in their borrowing capacities now.

The importance of the study is seen in the fact that debt service costs each year constitute a fixed charge which cannot be dodged or varied and which, by their size, curtail that much of the tax money which can be paid for operating expenses and the financing of further improvements. When the study is completed, the legislature will have complete information on the manner in which the various tax subdivisions are using their borrowing power and the wisdom which governs the expenditure of money thus acquired.

Today's meeting, which marks the first formal move on the part of Italy to discharge her war obligations
to the United States, was to be given over to a general discussion
of the entire debt situation with the Italian representatives outlining
the financial problems of their government and its ability to pay, and
with Secretary Mellon enunciating
the American policy with respect to the funding of the debts.

BODY IN RIVER

East Liverpool, O., June 25.—The third day disappearance of Charles S. Tice, 42, pottery worker was solved today when his body was found floating in the Ohio river here by campers.

After bidding his mother Mrs.
Sarah Leighne, good bye, Tice left home Monday night. Police believe he committed suicide.

EX-MAYOR DIES

Elyria, O., June 25.—Davis S.
Troxel, 61, wealthy founder and head of the Troxel Manufacturing Company, died here today after a year's illness with dropsy. Troxel served two terms as mayor of Elyria. He was a native of Wayne County, a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the Elks.

The law, according to Mr. Prince is specific as to what must be done before a refund can be given to anyone who has purchased gasoline for other than road purposes. Application for a refund of gasoline tax paid must be made by the person using the gasoline for the purpose other than propelling motor vehicles on the public highway. An application for refund of gasoline tax paid must be made to the tax commission of Ohio and such application must be filed within ninety days after date of sale on the invoices of the gasoline. To the application must be attached all invoices and each invoice plainly marked by the seller, showing that the seller assumes or has paid the gasoline tax.

When obtaining the invoice from the dealer—the buyer should examine it and see whether it is plainly marked. Mr. Prince advises, to show that the seller assumed or has paid the gasoline tax. If there is no printed statement on the invoice, the buyer should see that the following is written thereon: "Excise tax on this invoice is assumed and paid by the seller." He advises.

The application for all refunds must be made on the form prescribed by the tax commission and must be sworn to. All invoices must be sent in with the affidavit. These forms can be obtained without cost by writing for them to the tax commission of Ohio, Wyandot Building Columbus, O.

Those who attempt to obtain refunds without full compliance with the requirements of the law will be putting themselves to useless correspondence and trouble. Blank forms can also be produced at the County Farm Bureau Office.

For the present, of course, he

DEBT NEGOTIATIONS BY ITALY ARE BEGUN WITH U. S. TREASURY

Italian Ambassador And Secretary Mellon Leading In Debt Discussion

Washington, June 25.—Negotiations to agree upon terms for payment of the two billion dollar Italian debt to the United States, opened at the treasury department today.

The Mussolini government was represented by Giacomo De Martino, Italian ambassador here, and Mario Alberti, an officer of Credito Italiano, one of Italy's largest banks.

The United States was represented chiefly by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, chairman of the American debt funding commission with two other members of the commission—
Secretary of State Kellogg and Senator Reed Smoot, ready to join the discussion should their service be required.

Today's meeting, which marks the first formal move on the part of Italy to discharge her war obligations
to the United States, was to be
given over to a general discussion
of the entire debt situation with
the Italian representatives outlining
the financial problems of their government and its ability to pay, and
with Secretary Mellon enunciating
the American policy with respect to
the funding of the debts.

NASH BACKS GOLDEN RULE IN TURKEY

Columbus, June 25.—Golden Rule Nash of Cincinnati, millionaire clothes manufacturer, is to back plans of Ohio Universalists to institute the golden rule movement in Turkey. Details of the project were scheduled to be told at the afternoon session today of the Ohio Universalists association by the Rev. John Bayne Ascham, who has resigned as pastor of Avondale church Cincinnati, to direct the work.

The Ohio Universalist Ministerial Association was to meet this afternoon. Vesper services and a huge campfire on the banks of the Scioto river here tonight were to wind up the four day meeting.

Swampscott, Mass., June 25.—President Coolidge, somewhat lacking in true vacation complex, was casting about for diversion to fill the hours that have been spent at work.

Comfortably settled in his elaborate summer white house here, and duly thankful for the prevailing cool weather, Mr. Coolidge frankly says it is a loss as to exactly how he will amuse himself over a two months period.

His Mayflower is anchored off Marblehead for such cruises as he desires to take and the White House limousines are in the White Court garage should he prefer a motor trip; but cruising and motor riding also will pall if taken in over doses.

Those attached to the presidential entourage are predicting he will find the solution to his problem in work.

Attaches are speculating as to just how long it will be before President Coolidge decides to spend two hours daily at the temporary executive offices at Lynn, where he can work amid the usual bustle of clerks and assistants that mark the White House offices at Washington.

The majority agree on a week at the outside.

At the summer executive offices
today the first mail pouch with official mail arrived from Washington and the routine got under full swing.

Everett Saunders, Secretary to the president, has made no engagements for the president. One invitation to speak at a banquet was declined.

After breakfast today, President Coolidge under lowering skies and within sound of a roaring surf, kicked up by a strong east wind, took a short walk within the confines of the grounds of White Court.

the besieged French garrison at Taounat.

who revolted when their sheik was killed in battle, were reported return-

N. J. died as the result of an overdose of cantharides, an aphrodisiac drug, according to the autopsy report submitted today to Prosecutor
A. C. Hart of Bergen County.

Maurice Durin, 25 year old neighbor of Mrs. Wheeler is held in the county jail on the charge of murder.

Police said he confessed to putting heighten her attractions.

Mrs. Wheeler died a few hours later.

The grand jury will meet again next month at which time Prosecutor Hart expects to submit evidence ment against Durin.

ements and a stubborn tire caught in a street car rail claimed two deaths here

RESERVES TO FACE SPRINGFIELD WITH SOME NEW PLAYERS

The Xenia Reserves will attempt to get back into the win column Sunday afternoon when they take on the Springfield Wolverines at Washington Park at 2:30 o'clock.

Manager Chambliss has signed several new players. Yat Friend, who caught here before will be back behind the plate Sunday while Hamelman of Dayton will pitch. Cyphers will play third while the rest of the infield will be intact, although a new infielder will be on hand.

Chambliss is trying to get two new fly chasers and these will be announced later in the week. Ritter, captain and third baseman, has finished his work here and gone to Columbus and will not play with the locals any more.

In facing the Wolverines the locals will be up against a good nine but with the new men Chambliss has obtained he is confident the game will develop into a real battle and not a farce like last Sunday's.

FLYING EBONY, WITH EARL SANDE UP, MAY BE FEATURE ENTRY IN LATONIA DERBY SATURDAY

Flying Ebony, Kentucky derby winner, and now a certain starter in the $25,000 Latonia derby Saturday, is expected to add the final thrill to make that event stand out in Kentucky turf history.

William Duke, trainer of the Cochran horses, made his intention known when he wired the Kentucky track for stable reservations. Belief that Earl Sande, premier jockey, will pilot the Cochran entry with the added possibility that the pair will be the first to take down the extra $5,000 which the Kentucky Jockey Club offers the owner of the horse winning both events, has added to the interest in turf circles.

Track scribes were not modest in their claims that it was Sande's superb riding that brought Flying Ebony to the wire ahead of a field of favorites at the Churchill Downs meeting several weeks ago. The jockey who fought off death from a hospital cot after a terrific fall and injury last season, proved his ability in the earlier event by using all of the tricks of the trade to bring his mount to the front and keep him there. If he rides the Cochran entry Saturday it is estimated that considerable of the wise money at the park will be riding with him on the strength of his personal achievements on the ovals alone.

As Mecca is the objective of the devout Mohammedan so Latonia is expected to be the focal point of the annual pilgrimage to the shrine of the thoroughbred shank Saturday. The natural and artificial beauty of Latonia, added to the thrilling scenes that are enacted on the track, the cosmopolitan crowd that overflows the stands, and the sporting atmosphere that rises like an incense around this altar raised to horse-flesh, makes Latonia the most colorful spot in the country on the occasion of this annual derby running.

The derby will be the crowning feature of the present turf program, now

WHO SAID IT?

I asked who it was that dictated the famous cablegram, "We want Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead," the average American would doubtless answer without a moment's hesitation that it was Theodore Roosevelt; and if told that he was mistaken, he would probably be willing to lay a good wager on it. And yet he would be wrong.

The facts concerning the demand were told in full by William Roscoe Thayer, in his "Life of John Hay;" and Thayer was too close both to President Roosevelt and to Mr. Hay, his secretary of state, to be capable of making any mistake in such matters. It was the secretary of state, not the president, who formulated the dispatch and transmitted it to Mr. Gummere, the American consul at Tangier. And as authority for this, we have not simply the assertion of Mr. Thayer, but the following conclusive extract from the diary of Secretary Hay.

"June 23. My telegram to Gummere had an uncalled-for success. It is curious how a concise impropriety hits the public."

And further entries in the diary indicate the quick success of Hay's "concise impropriety," not only with the American public, but in Morocco as well:

"June 24. Gummere telegraphs that he expects Perdicaris tonight."

"June 27. Perdicaris wires his thanks."

No, Roosevelt didn't do it, and Hay did; but in all his service as secretary of state under Roosevelt's administration, Hay did no other single act as thoroughly Rooseveltian as this. The president must often have wondered how he came to let Hay beat him to it.

GERMAN IN THE SCHOOLS.

THE city of Cleveland has recently made provision for the teaching of German, as an elective subject in the high schools. The same thing has been done in various other cities, from the schools of which German had been excluded by official action taken during the World war.

While thoroughly approving of the restoration of this study to the high schools, as a possible subject for those who characterize its restoration to the public schools as "a return from war hysteria to sanity." Previous to the war, due rather to the influence of politicians with designs upon the German vote than to any general demand voiced by the Germans in America themselves, the study of German had been given a far larger place in the public schools of many American cities than was called for on justifiable educational grounds. And in only too many instances, this preferred position was used for other than legitimate educational ends. The feeling that led to the dropping of the study during the war period was not hysteria at all, but was thoroughly justifiable on grounds of sound American policy under then existing circumstances.

And the feeling that now permits the restoration of the language, not to its former preferred position, but as an elective in the high schools, on an equality with other elective studies, is likewise justifiable on grounds of sound American policy under the circumstances of today.

AUTOMOBILES

IN Cincinnati a girl swallowed poison because she could not meet a payment due on an automobile.

Now there are two kinds of suicide. There is the suicide caused by a form of insanity, brought on by depression or other causes and there is the suicide caused by cowardice.

It is safe to assume that the Cincinnati girl attempted suicide because of cowardice. She was afraid—not of what the automobile merchant would say when she was unable to meet the payment but that he would take the automobile from her.

There are many evils following in the wake of every good thing—and who can say that the automobile is not a good thing.

What My Neighbor Says

Is of Interest to Xenia Folks.

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Xenia resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Leonard Jones, car inspector, Home Ave., says: "Heavy lifting and working in a cramped position brought on backache. I was stiff and lame across my back. After I had worked in a cramped position for a few minutes I could hardly straighten. Doan's Pills rid me of the attack."

SEVERAL YEARS LATER Mr. Jones said: "Doan's Pills cured me of kidney trouble and I have no further need for them."

AFTER LEAVING THE HOSPITAL

Was Weak and Miserable. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Auger's Strength

Lowell, Massachusetts.—"I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the little books that you send around and I felt very good after I had taken a couple of bottles of it. I had been in the Hospital and felt pretty well at first but I went down to nothing. I was weak and had to lie in bed almost all day. I had dizzy and faint spells, pains in my back and lower parts and was so nervous I could not bear my children around. I hope the Vegetable Compound helps other women as it did me. I do all my own work now and feel so well. I have told my friends about it and my sister and my aunt."

Mrs. OLIVE AUGER, 19 Howard Street, Lowell, Massachusetts.

Over 200,000 women have so far received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound!"

"88 out of every 100 of the replies say,

"Yes" and because the Vegetable Compound has been helping other women it should help you."

Today's Talks

YOU NEVER KNOW

The impossible tasks are the ones that have never been tried.

There is no greater thrill than the one that comes from the doing of something that you imagined you couldn't.

I ran into an old friend the other day whom I knew in a little town out West where I once went to school. He was rather a joke to most people then. But now he is quite a citizen as he is making more money than anyone else in that town. He took up a simple idea and worked it out to its limit. He had no idea of its extent or possible development but he kept at it until today he has a great business covering many states.

You never know until you try.

Seeming mediocrity is often genius locked up. It only takes the man himself, or perhaps some suggestion from some one else to locate the key that unlocks this genius.

The greatest fortunes have been made from simple ideas. Two notable examples are those of Ford and Woolworth.

All you have to do is to get one good idea and then multiply it.

So many people lose out by sitting still. By moving about you see what others are doing and have done. By emulating them and plusing this with courage you will be able to do things of which you only dreamed before.

No matter how many new ideas crop up there is always an improvement that can be added.

You never know your strength until it has been put to the test. And unless you test it out on difficult things you will never be strong.

Above everything never be satisfied. Keep thinking, aspiring and climbing higher.

Keep fit. A strong body houses the ablest brain. There must be a strong physical background for mental spiritual growth.

You will do the things that you believe you can do.

DUNN BOUND OVER ON CHARGE OF LARCENY

Wilbur Dunn, 30, colored, Cedarville, charged with burglary and larceny, was bound over to Common Pleas Court under $500 bond at his hearing before J. E. Jones, Justice of the peace, Wednesday afternoon.

Dunn is accused of implication in the theft of nearly $500 from the Charles M. Ridgway drug store, South Main Street, Cedarville, last Friday.

The theft was committed in the absence of the proprietors. The cash is said to have been secreted in a place thought to have been known only to the owners and employees, which lead authorities to believe the thief was acquainted with the store.

GRID CANDIDATES MEET COACH KOLB AT INITIAL SESSION

Thirteen aspirants to fame on the football gridiron at Central High School this fall, answered Coach Victor Kolb's first call for back field and center candidates Wednesday night at the high school. Included in the turn-out was Bob Chitty, captain elect and backfield man.

Coach Kolb announced he is pleased with the initial turn-out and hopes to develop winning eleven this fall from the remains of last year's team and new candidates.

The thirteen prospects received initial training in the rudiments of the grid pastime at the Wednesday meeting. Other meetings will be held from time to time, according to Coach Kolb.

The new mentor announced that the John Bryan Farm, near Yellow Springs, is being considered as a possible site for the summer training school of grid candidates the last two weeks before school re-opens this year.

In view of the fact that almost an entirely new eleven must be developed from mostly green material, Coach Kolb favors the plan of a two weeks' training period to develop the Central athletes physically to enable them to bear up under the strain of a hard grind and a long hard schedule.

Camp equipment of the local Kiwanis Club may be available for the camp, it is said.

Realizing that a center and good backfield men are the bulwark of a team, Coach Kolb's first grid call was confined to aspirants for these positions. The remainder of the team will be built around these selections.

MODISH MITZI—The New Shades are Crayon Colors By JAY V. JAY
GEORGE SISLER, manager and first baseman for the St. Louis Browns, was the first big leaguer to reach the century mark in base hits. He accomplished this feat last Saturday when he slammed out one of his hundred single in the game against the Athletics. Sisler's comeback is remarkable. After a year's layoff due to eye trouble he just managed to bat .305 in 1924 which was a drop of 100 points or more. At the start of the present season he hit safely in thirty-four consecutive games. His weakness last year was to hit low balls but the A. L. twirlers have been unable to fool him as yet on the low delivery according to reports. To date he is hitting .366. Sisler has been leading batters in the American League twice since he has been in the big time. In 1922 he batted .420, which was his best mark, while two years previous he hit .407 and led the league for the first time. Besides being a good hitter he is also a good first sacker and fielded .984 last season. He was originally a pitcher but after Pittsburgh sold him to St. Louis he started playing the outfield and was later shifted to first base where he remained.
OWEN CARROL, former star pitcher for Holy Cross College of Worcester, Mass., made his big league debut with the Detroit Tigers last week against Boston. He worked six innings and was knocked from the mound. Although Detroit rallied in the ninth and won the game Holloway was given credit for the win as the score was 8 to 7 in favor of Boston when he was ordered to the showers. Carroll was a bit wild and did not pitch as steady ball as he is capable of. He walked four and hit two. While he was at Holy Cross he pitched fifty-three games and of this number he won fifty-one and lost two. Boston beat him once while Princeton nosed his club out 1 to 0. In the fifty-three games he scored eighteen shutouts. This season he won eighteen straight games for the Holy Cross outfit. He has speed, a nice drop and control that is above the average. He should get over.
CARL MAYS, submarine ball hurler for the Reds, worked his first game of the season Tuesday at Chicago against the Cubs and was beaten. He pitched but one and one third innings and was treated rather roughly by the Cubs. He went in for Donohue with the score tied and retired the side but at the start of the next round Adams, Maranville and Freigau singled and broke up the ball game. During his short stay on the rubber he fanned one, hit one, retired two on flys while four got hits off him. Mays was leading hurler for the Queen City tribe last season winning twenty games and losing nine. He had an earned run average of 3.15. Considering that this is his first game since last fall he did not do bad and now that he is back again the Reds may yet be heard from.
JOHN "Mandy" Brooks of the Chicago Cubs has shown to date that he is every bit as good a clouter as Stock, Bottomley, Hawks or Grimm. He has nine home runs to his credit which is more than the above named men have and they have played in more games than Brooks. He is hitting .386 and fielding faultlessly. The Cubs got him from the Columbus A.A. club and paid $25,000 for him and it looks as though he is going to be worth it. He played good ball for Columbus in the A.A. hitting .342 and got seven homers. He was not looked upon to be a home run slugger but since he has been with the Windy City nine has gotten more circuit clouts than he did all last season in the A. A. He has played in about twenty games and considering this is his first year in big time he is doing very well and it looks as though he has a great future before him.
THE REDS are not doing so well against the Cubs and of the eleven games they have played to date, have won but four. Rixey seems to be the most effective against them as he has beat them twice. Sheehan and Donohue have also scored a win apiece over the Chicago tribe while Luque has lost three games to Killifer's nine.

MODISH MITZI—The New Shades are Crayon Colors

By JAY V. JAY

Toothpaste pink—that's the shade that is used for Adelaide's flannel sports dress. You are probably familiar with the handsome thread in pinkness that so placidly spreads itself over the brush every morning. Well, keep the shade in your mind's eye for it's one of the most fashionable crayon colors.

Leaf green—preferably a maple leaf green is also one of the favored month's shades. Eleanor selects her crepe sports blouse of leaf green, not dear friends, so that she will be lost in the foliage of the summer landscape but rather because she will be more prominent in fashion.

XENIA GOLFERS ARE DEFEATED 2 TO 1 BY WASHINGTON CLUB

Playing on the strange nine-hole course, golfers of the Xenia Country Club lost their first inter-city match of the 1925 season to the Washington Country Club over the latter's course Wednesday afternoon by the score of 48 to 24, Nassau count.

The local club was represented by twenty-five players.

Several other inter-city matches are being arranged and will be announced later.

W. Crawford Craig, of the local club, shot the low score of the match over eighteen holes with an 88. Craig played the first nine in 45 and reduced this mark by two strokes in the final round for a 43. Incidentally Craig took all three possible points from his Washington opponent, Griffiths, who made a 92.

The local delegation was royally entertained at the Court House club.

BELLBROOK

Bellbrook will play Dayton team on the home diamond Sunday June 28.

Harry Higgins and family of Xenia were visitors in the village a short time Saturday night.

Hon. George H. Thorne of Spring Valley, was here circulating among his friends Tuesday.

Mrs. Eason Erhart is reported on the sick list.

Three items that appeared in "The Bellbrook Moon" each week for more than six months were John Belt has commenced butchering," "John Belt has quit butchering," and "The stone pile is still to be seen in front of Patterson's Shoe Shop."

Mrs. C. L. Gossler left Monday for a week's visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rohrbach, of Niles.

Sunday's game between the locals and "Dayton Bars" seemed about an even chance for victory on each side up until the last half of the seventh inning when the colored boys went to pieces under the onslaught of our slingers who at will knocked the sphere to all parts of the field and crossed the plate eight times before their dusky competitors were about to stop the slaughter. A feature of the game was "Swatty's" home run which aided materially in the big score achieved. Score, Bellbrook 11, Dayton 2.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. T. M. Scarff, of Spring Valley were held for Alpha Stephens Sunday afternoon, one of the largest concourses of people in the town's history being present to pay the last tribute of respect to a worthy citizen. Mr. Stephens' illness began nearly one year ago from which time he gradually declined until last Friday morning when the grim reaper claimed his own. The deceased was about 36 years of age and a hardworking industrious man, many times going far beyond his strength. He was a member of the P. O. U. A. M. Lodge. The order went through a short service at the grave. He leaves to mourn their loss his mother, Mrs. Ellis Sidenstricker, his wife and two children, Lonnie and Cleo Stephens, also one brother, Harry Stephens. Burial was made in Bellbrook cemetery.

An interesting relic in the form of an ancient newspaper—"The Bellbrook Magnet," which recently came into our hands, brings to light many almost forgotten incidents that occurred during the village following the discovery of the famous Magnetic Springs more than forty years ago. This little spicy once-a-week publication bears the date May 17, 1884. It was edited by Professor John L. Elcock, and published by Edwin L. Tiffany. One of the outstanding features of this issue is a brief account of the generous, whole-hearted manner in which our citizens responded to the call for help when our sister town of Jamestown was almost destroyed by a cyclone which left in its wake only misery and destruction. A solicit committee was appointed in the village and each of the school districts with the result that $474.05 was raised in only a few days. Those who composed the committee were: Adam Brown, A. F. Holmes, Wallace Berryhill, John Smith, Mollie Dearth, George Harman, Rolla Davis, Nathan James, James Seal, William A. Hopkins, Jacob Baroff and John Hopkins. All but four Wallace Berryhill, John Smith, Rolla Davis and Mollie Dearth, have passed from earth to their reward.

Rural organizations of Ohio and associations of taxpayers are to begin a struggle to cut more than $3,000,000 from the general property taxes of the state on the strength of the new balanced budget law which becomes effective shortly, it is said. An effort will also be made to require every county in Ohio to reduce its tax budget by $40,000.

The argument is found in the new Brown gas tax law which has been in effect for several weeks. By the terms of this law, 45 per cent of the receipts are to go to the state highway department, 30 percent to municipalities and 25 percent to be divided among the eighty-eight counties equally. On this basis it is estimated the county share will be $3,000,000 or nearly $40,000 for each county.

When the gas bill was instituted, local motorists who have been forced to pay the tax will recall, that the money to be collected was to be used on the highways in view of the fact that the motorists were benefited by it. The farm element is attempting to divert the funds collected to general use instead of road maintenance, which proposal the motorists have announced they will fight to the bitter end.

Contrary to the announcement that the Brown bill was passed with the provision that the money derived would be used exclusively to build and maintain roads, local students of the bill point out that the only result will be to maintain the roads just as they are...

Interpretations of the law have been made to the effect that dirt of Emerald Oil (full strength) and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you will notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are of normal size.

Emerald Oil is a powerful, yet harmless germicide and results are guaranteed.

highways can be improved and repaired with the gas tax funds but can not be remodeled into gravel or hard surface roads.

Paving money must come through license fees and this amount will be sliced in half under the terms of the Brown law in 1926, with the result that property owners in rural districts who thought they saw a loop-hole and would escape the road assessment under the bill will be forced to pay as usual when a new road by necessity, is built.

A few jottings of the day by Samuel Pepys Jr.:—After nothing but sleeping and waking and getting little rest which I blame a mosquito which got into my room and stung me mightily, up, with a grouch. Anon to the office where got me a morning edition and, too, a few letters, though mostly bills they were.

Down Galloway Street watching how they are building the new houses. But beautiful to me are the new mansions on King Street with fine lawns; so that I have a fancy of building one like them some day, only not so handsome, Heaven knows.

Most of the day soaked with gloom, and of a truth I in no good humor all day long. Out by the golf course and through the hills, where I never was before; and find it a very fine place, only a little far out but good to look upon after being crowded in the city so long. On the way home met with Bob McKay, who works at the Xenia Country Club and he invited me to play golf, which I know nothing about.

It being nearly the end of the month, to balancing my bank account to see whether or no I might have enough ahead to pay for a few necessities, and found hardly enough. Write a check with much shame and mailed to for my milk bill long past due.

With some company to the Interurban where dined and made blunders a plenty, using the wrong knife for this, and the wrong fork for that, my wife giving me sharp glances most of the time. Late home where got a few pieces by radio and then to reading story about colored people by David Grayson, as fine as ever I read.

EXPECT 25,000 AT ANNUAL FROLIC OF EAGLES ON FOURTH

Springfield, O., June 25.—The fifteenth annual Fourth of July celebration under the auspices of the local Fraternal Order of Eagles, which will be staged this year at the Clark County fairgrounds, is expected to be the greatest in the history of the event.

Eighteen vaudeville and circus acts, daylight fireworks, airplane and balloon ascensions and parachute drops, and a death-defying "autos that pass in the air" act, will feature the afternoon observance, while a gigantic $2,500 pyrotechnic display will be presented during the evening.

A baseball game between the F. O. E. Athletics of the K. I. O. League and the Urbana team will be played at 9 a.m. at the Eagle field as the opening gun of the big celebration, and from then until the last rocket of the fireworks display fades away, there will be no let-up in the merrymaking.

Every plan and arrangement for the spectators has been taken by the committees in charge, and indications are that this year's event will follow all previous ones in being a huge success.

The Eagles have expended approximately $10,000 for this year's event, and if fair weather prevails it is expected that at least 25,000 persons will flock to the local fairgrounds for the annual celebration.

TY COBB IS HIGHEST PAID BALL PLAYER WALSH HAS LEARNED

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, June 25—Although the matter has been kept a profound secret for reasons not altogether clear, it developed today that Cobb is either the highest paid man in all baseball or runs the individual in question a very neighborly second.

Cobb, it seems, has a higher salary than George H. Ruth, Rogers Hornsby and Judge Landis, among others. On the very best authority, Cobb is said to be paid $60,000 a season for managing and playing centerfield for the Detroit ball club.

Just why they saw fit to whisper about the thing these several years is not for the writer's inadequate comprehension.

The Yanks megaphoned Ruth's contract as the largest in baseball and caught the vagrant eye thereby. Of course, they didn't want the publicity. It merely was forced upon them.

It had another effect, however. According to the writer's informant, it got Cobb his present salary. "This fellow Ruth gets $52,000," Cobb is said to have told Frank H. Navin, before he took over the Tigers. "Do you consider me the better ball player? You do? All right, then pay the better player for playing ball and managing the club at the same time."

Mr. Navin did.

Cobb's salary is only exceeded, on paper at least, by John McGraw's. John also owes his financial rating to the Ruth ballyhoo. At that time, the Giants and Yankees were engaged in a local war for patronage and publicity was as necessary as their coffee.

Deciding to go the Yanks one better, the Giants voted McGraw a yearly salary of $75,000.

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER LXXIX

The confidantes of pretty women usually are dull homely females. Bertha Beall was the nearest to a confidante that Lilah Menlow had.

Bertha didn't have the slightest taste in dress, and not the merest attraction for men.

She had become a schoolteacher by choice.

She had always been like that. Bertha looked upon Lilah as a sort of younger sister, and Lilah's attitude toward Bertha was approximate that of a grown-up girl toward her old nurse.

Explain the phenomenon of their friendship and you explain most of the so-called friendships that exist between women.

Bertha was the first caller Lilah had after her return.

Lilah had not telephoned her, and she couldn't guess how Bertha had learned they were back, but she wasn't surprised when her friend arrived, for the schoolteacher always in some way, and usually in advance of all others, acquired every crumb of news having to do with her limited world.

"Mrs. Menlow!" she said, with false emphasis and a little giggle, as they met and kissed. "Why, Lilah, you're looking perfectly wonderful! I've never seen you looking so well! Married life is agreeing with you!" Another giggle.

They went into the library. A cheerful blaze was crackling around a small log in the fireplace.

"Tell me all the news," Lilah said, seating herself on the lounge with the visitor. "I feel as if I had been away from the city for years and years."

"Well, there really isn't any. Everything has been dull—perhaps because you two were away," she giggled. "I suppose you had a wonderful trip in California."

"Perfectly wonderful! But the railroad trip is so wearing and tiring. I'll never go again, unless it's by ship. You know you can go to New York and sail around through the Panama Canal to Los Angeles or San Francisco."

"That's me. I just can't stand being shut up in a Pullman car for days and days."

Lilah smiled charitably at this;

Advance Statement to Automotive Trade about Wasson Motor Check Tests to be

Held in Xenia, O., Monday, July 6

THE much-discussed Wasson Motor Check is coming to conduct for local car owners the free Havoline oil-power tests which have made it a sensation everywhere it has gone.

The Motor Check works like X-ray on motor, transmission, rear end and brakes. It even measures the performance of gasoline and oil.

You've heard "Oil is more than oil—it is power." The Motor Check revealed it. Trade papers discussed it. Newspapers broadcasted it. Car owners acclaimed it.

Automobile manufacturers heeded it and revised their lubrication procedure.

This announcement reveals just one side of the interest the Motor Check holds for automotive dealers. In a year, it has taught dealers and owners alike that oil means more than lubrication. It has shown the vital relation that oil has to power.

Havoline has shown that power goes up, 10 to 50 per cent., simply by changing from wrong oil to right oil. The Motor Check is here to prove it in any man's car.

Come and see the machine. Special trade showing starts one week in advance of opening to public. Bring a car. Get a free test.

Round up mechanics, drivers and salesmen. Don't let any important individual in your organization miss the Wasson Motor Check.

We have worked out this plan so that every dealer in town can get in on it

If You Give Crank Case Service

We furnish you with oil power test certificates which entitle your customers, with every crank case filling of Havoline, to the free tests on the Wasson Motor Check.

If You Can Not Give Crank Case Service

We furnish you with certificates for the test and coupons for the oil. Each coupon calls for one quart of Havoline. You sell your customer the number of coupons required to fill his crank case, paste the coupons in the certificates and send him around to the test station. We put in the oil and make the test—no complications—no red tape.

Steady, large-space newspaper advertising will tell everybody how to get tests. We supply all dealers with a chart which tells crank-case capacities of all makes of cars. Certificates and coupons are ready.

Get in! Do it now! See for yourself the way the Motor Check helps Havoline dealers sell oil. Write or 'phone for details.

Your Customer Gets This Service

First:—crank case drained and re-filled with Havoline—the power oil—of proper grade for his car.

Then:—the free tests on the Wasson Motor Check

1. Test car for horse power.

2. Test car for slippage of gases past pistons.

3. Test car for timing accuracy.

4. Test speedometer accuracy.

5. Test car for wheel alignment.

6. Test car for brake adjustment.

7. Test car for slipping clutch.

8. Repeat tests Nos. 1 and 2 after owner has driven car the distance indicated by Wasson Motor Check engineer.

9. Furnish car owner record of all tests and an oil prescription specifying correct grade of Havoline and proper period for oil change.

Encourage customers to get these tests

WHEN power is there, everything required of a lubricant is there.

Poor oil is what's wrong with most cars. Once an owner sees the power that right oil gives his car, he can use the information to cut down repair bills. It will save him many a dollar on gasoline and oil.

Tell customers what the Motor Check will show. Get the Oil-Power story pat.* Point out that the free Motor Check test alone shows more about a car than could ever be learned before.

Tie in with our newspaper advertising. Public tests begin as announced. Signs, posters, window displays, etc., furnished free with coupons.

*Phone for the Havoline salesman today.

*One sales aid furnished dealers is the remarkable Motor Check booklet, "Oil is More Than Oil—It Is Power." Get one now—and read it. (Advance copy supplied car owners on request.) Illustration at right shows Motor Check testing a car.

GARRISON AND NAVY JOINED IN REVOLT; REPORT NO FIGHTING

General Pangalos Is Now
Proclaimed New President of Republic

London, June 25.—All Greece is in the throes of a revolution, a dispatch from Salonika, via Paris said today.

The revolutionists, the Salonika dispatch said, were in complete control. Officers of the garrison, under General Pangalos, established a military government and occupied all civil and military institutions. The navy joined in the revolt.

No reports of fighting were given in the dispatch.

Military leaders of the revolt issued a communiqué in which it was announced that the revolutionists control the situation throughout Greece and that no resistance is being encountered. The navy contingent, which joined in the movement, was led by Admiral Adjikirakos. The admiral addressed the following telegram to the president of the republic:

"We proclaim that your government has fallen. We consider the council of ministers responsible for the spilling of fraternal blood."

Paris, June 25.—The Michalacopulos government was deposed and General Pangalos, leader of the revolutionists was proclaimed the new president of the Greek republic, the newspaper L'Indépendant de Salopika, announced today, according to advices to La Libre.

The army and navy co-operated in overthrowing the government, the dispatch added.

YOUTHS ARE VICTIMS OF DREAD LEPROSY; NEAR PANIC FOLLOWS

Brothers Afflicted Take Care Of
Selves—Doctors Say Disease
Not Spreading

Soho, N. J., June 2.—In a little cottage, isolated on the Essex County hospital grounds here today were two bright-faced schoolboys, victims, according to health authorities, of the most terrible scourge of Biblical times leprosy.

They are Hale George 13, and his brother, Frank, 11.

Discovery that they were suffering from the dread disease has caused a condition of near-panic in the community where they lived and mingled with hundreds of other boys and girls at the Avon avenue school, Newark.

A careful examination has revealed however, that none of the other children in the school are afflicted, according to the authorities. The George boys were born in Bermuda and came to the U. S. six years ago. They are the sons of a stationery engineer.

In their little isolated cabin, they sweep, make their own beds, wash the dishes and otherwise care for themselves. Their only visitors are Dr. F. A. Pringle, superintendent of the Hospital and Mary Metley, a nurse who give three treatments of chaulmoogra oil daily.

TWENTY OPERATED ON AT RED CROSS CLINIC THURSDAY MORNING

Under the auspices of the Greene County Chapter of the Red Cross, a tonsillectomy clinic was held at the hospital of Drs. Madden and Shields, Thursday morning.

Twenty patients, including two adults were operated on for the removal of their tonsils and adenoids. Dr. Reed Madden was assisted in operating by Drs. L. L. Taylor, Yellow Springs; M. I. Marsh, Cedarville; W. M. Hartinger, Spring Valley and Nancy Finney, Cedarville, Raymond Snodgrass, medical student also assisted.

Success of the clinic was due to the efforts of Miss Helen Evers, County Red Cross public health nurse, who enlisted the children for the clinic and gained the co-operation of the doctors of the county.

MISS JUANITA ROUNDREE

TOWNSHIP MAY SOON BE ELIMINATED FROM GOVERNMENT OF OHIO

Legislative Tax Committee Studying Doing Away With Subdivision

Columbus, June 25.—The township, once the bulwark of popular government in Ohio but whose importance is rapidly diminishing with the spread of urban population, may soon be eliminated or its functions drastically curtailed.

The possibility of the elimination of this unit of government is to be studied by experts of the special joint legislative tax committee who are busy just now gathering volumes of data on the machinery of Ohio tax laws and the working out of this system in digging into the people's pockets for money to pay the public bills. The township may be offered up as a sacrifice to modernization and efficiency in government.

Ohio lawmakers seem to think that the taxpayer is not getting value received for his tax dollar and the inquiry is seeking to discover ways and means by which waste may be eliminated in inefficient practices checked and the tax dollar spread over a greater production area.

One of the subjects which is to be given most serious attention by the investigators is the policy of installment buying of public improvements, whether roads, school houses or water mains—the bonding plan of payment. They were startled when their records showed that the ninety-three cities of the state owed $425,000,000 in bonds on which annual interest payments will average around $20,000. They realize that bond issues always cost the public more than the aggregate of the original issue, sometimes twice and three times as much before the last dollar of interest and principal is paid off. There is expected to be a demand, as a result of the study, for more of the "pay-as-you-go" policy in such improvements.

Realizing the great importance of the public debt question in any study seeking greater economy in taxation, the committee has determined to make an exhaustive inquiry into the entire subject.

The approximate annual cost of all the public debt services in the state is now being studied, as well as the extent to which the public debt can still be increased. Many communities are close to the limit in their borrowing capacities now.

The importance of the study is seen in the fact that debt service costs each year constitute a fixed charge which cannot be dodged or varied and which, by their size, curtail that much of the tax money which can be paid for operating expenses and the financing of further improvements. When the study is completed, the legislature will have complete information on the manner in which the various tax subdivisions are using their borrowing power and the wisdom which governs the expenditure of money thus acquired.

Today's meeting, which marks the first formal move on the part of Italy to discharge her war obligations to the United States, was to be given over to a general discussion of the entire debt situation with the Italian representatives outlining the financial problems of their government and its ability to pay, and with Secretary Mellon enunciating the American policy with respect to the funding of the debts.

The law, according to Mr. Prince is specific as to what must be done before a refund can be given to anyone who has purchased gasoline for other than road purposes. Application for a refund of gasoline tax paid must be made by the person using the gasoline for the purpose other than propelling motor vehicles on the public highway. An application for refund of gasoline tax paid must be made to the tax commission of Ohio and such application must be filed within ninety days after date of sale on the invoices of the gasoline. To the application must be attached all invoices and each invoice plainly marked by the seller, showing that the seller assumes or paid the gasoline tax.

When obtaining the invoice from the dealer—the buyer should examine it and see whether it is plainly marked, Mr. Prince advises, to show that the seller assumed or has paid the gasoline tax. If there is no printed statement on the invoice, the buyer should see that the following is written thereon: "Excise tax on this invoice is assumed and paid by the seller," he advises.

The application for all refunds must be made on the form prescribed by the tax commission and must be sworn to. All invoices must be sent in with the affidavit. These forms can be obtained without cost by writing for them to the tax commission of Ohio, Wyandot Building Columbus, O.

Those who attempt to obtain refunds without full compliance with the requirements of the law will be putting themselves and the tax commission to useless correspondence and trouble. Blank forms can also be produced at the County Farm Bureau Office.

Washington, June 25.—The Cleve-land Union Terminal Company was authorized today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to issue $15,000,000 sinking fund gold bonds. These will be sold and the proceeds used in construction work. The bonds will be guaranteed by the railroads using the terminal.

London, June 25.—French airplanes staved off a sharp Riff offensive and saved a food convoy, supplying the west Quezzan front in French Morocco. Tangier dispatches to the Morning Post stated today.

Attack of the Riffs in full force, was finally beaten off after the arrival of the French forces, but the French advance was halted until rear guard posts were firmly established.

Air forces repulsed attacks of the tribesmen, directed at the central French front.

In the Spanish zone, the Riffs were bringing strong pressure against Tetuan and Larache. Spanish airplanes were conducting heavy bombing counter attacks.

Paris, June 25.—French troops in Morocco scored a brilliant victory near Teroual, according to L'Information dispatches from Fez today. Tanks are being rushed to the aid of the besieged French garrison at Taounat.

Tribesmen in the Teroual district, who revolted when their sheikh was killed in battle, were reported returning to the French ranks.

SUGGEST STRONGEST ATTITUDE IN ORDER TO SUPPRESS RIOTS

Student Demonstration Is Without Loss Of Life—
Shanghai Guarded

Shanghai, June 25.—The American government was called upon by Americans in China today to take an active hand in suppressing disorder growing out of the general strike of Chinese against foreigners.

At the same time, the Chinese government stationed troops at the meeting place where Chinese were to stage a monster anti-foreign demonstration this afternoon and announced its determination to halt the demonstration.

American interference in China was urged in a cablegram transmitted today to the United States State department by the American Association of China.

"The United States should energetically co-operate with other powers and adopt the strongest attitude in order to suppress the present state of lawlessness directed against foreigners," the cablegram recited.

"The situation is in our opinion, one primarily to long existing political conditions and aggravated by soviet propaganda."

The association urged that China be held "strictly responsible for all losses of life, property and business. The absolute observance of existing treaties is essential, until modified through strictly orderly processes provided by the Washington conference."

The Chinese government was ordered to forbade immediate repetition of attacks on Shamen, the foreign settlement at Canton.

The remainder of the women and children at Shamen have been evacuated to Hong Kong.

Shanghai is being closely guarded. A strict search is being made of all Chinese entering the foreign settlement.

Paris, June 25.—Replying early to China's note requesting immediate revision of existing treaties with foreign powers, the senior minister of the diplomatic corps this afternoon reiterated the desire of the powers for the immediate appointment of Chinese commissioners for negotiations.

Although thousands of students and workers paraded here today, carrying anti-British and anti-Japan banners, the demonstration passed without untoward incident.

SENATOR S. D. FESS SPEAKS TO CIVITANS

The freedom of the press and speech must not be limited in any way, declared United States Senator S. D. Fess, Yellow Springs, in an address at the International Civilian Convention, at the Miami Hotel, Dayton, Wednesday morning. His address featured the closing session of the convention.

Senator Fess denounced any effort to open the gates of the United States to the population of the world, pointing out that the character and quality of American citizens is what counts.

He brought convention delegates to their feet when he stated that he has voted and always will, to immediately deport any person who disrespects the American flag and soldier.

Convention delegates visited Wilbur Wright Field, Wednesday.

DONAHEY SPEAKS TO TRAVELING MEN

Columbus, June 25.—Governor Donahay, of Ohio, believes the time will come when society will exile behind prison bars for life any person who speculates in food, clothing or other necessities of life, he told delegates to the supreme court, United Commercial Travelers of America, which was scheduled to close its convention here with election of officers late this afternoon.

Resolutions demanding passage by congress of legislation permitting sale by railroads of reduced rate mileage books, and the repeal of the Pullman surcharge are expected to be adopted today.

PAIR KILLED WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

Warren, O., June 25.—Roy Allen and his brother, Glen Allen were instantly killed and George Longberry was seriously injured when their automobile was struck by an Erie passenger train at a crossing in Cortland today. Longberry was brought to a hospital here.

The three, reported to have lived in Mecca, small village, were driving to work in Warren. The machine was driven on the tracks just as the train approached, reports said.

PRESIDENT MAY WORK ON VACATION TO AMUSE HIMSELF

Plans to relax and enjoy a complete rest. But he anticipates a continued rest may pall as the summer progresses.

The Mayflower is anchored off Marblehead for such cruises as he desires to take and the White House limousines are in the White Court garage should he prefer a motor trip; but cruising and motor riding also will pall if taken in over doses.

Those attached to the presidential entourage are predicting he will find the solution to his problem in work.

Attaches are speculating as to just how long it will be before President Coolidge decides to spend two hours daily at the temporary executive offices at Lynn, where he can work amid the usual bustle of clerks and assistants that mark the White House offices at Washington.

The majority agree on a week at the outside.

At the summer executive offices today the first mail pouch with official mail arrived from Washington and the routine got under full swing.

Everett Saunders, Secretary to the president, has made no engagements for the president. One invitation to speak at a banquet was declined.

After breakfast today, President Coolidge under lowering skies and within sound of a roaring surf, kicked up by a strong east wind, took a short walk within the confines of the grounds of White Court.

RESERVES TO FACE SPRINGFIELD WITH SOME NEW PLAYERS

The Xenia Reserves will attempt to get back into the win column Sunday afternoon when they take on the Springfield Wolverines at Washington Park at 2:30 o'clock.

Manager Chambliss has signed several new players. Yat Friend, who caught here before, will be back behind the plate Sunday while Hamerman of Dayton will pitch. Cyphers will play third while the rest of the infield will be intact, although a new infielder will be on hand.

Chambliss is trying to get two new fly chasers and these will be announced later in the week. Ritter, captain and third baseman, has finished his work here and gone to Columbus and will not play with the team any more.

In facing the Wolverines the locals will be up against a good nine but with the new men Chambliss has obtained he is confident the game will develop into a real battle and not a farce like last Sunday's.

FLYING EBONY, WITH EARL SANDE UP, MAY BE FEATURE ENTRY IN LATONIA DERBY SATURDAY

Flying Ebony, Kentucky derby winner, and now a certain starter in the $25,000 Latonia derby Saturday, is expected to add the final thrill to make that event stand out in Kentucky turf history.

William Duke, trainer of the Cochran horses, made his intention known when he wired the Kentucky track for stable reservations. Belief that Earl Sande, premier jockey, will pilot the Cochran entry with the added possibility that the pair will be the first to take down the extra $5,000 which the Kentucky Jockey Club offers the owner of the horse winning both events, has added to the interest in turf circles.

Track scribes were not modest in their claims that it was Sande's superb riding that brought Flying Ebony to the wire ahead of a field of favorites at the Churchill Downs meeting several weeks ago. The midge who fought off death from a hospital cot after a terrific fall and injury last season, proved his ability in the earlier event by using all of the tricks of the trade to bring his mount to the front and keep him there. If he rides the Cochran entry Saturday it is estimated that considerable of the wise money at the park will be riding with him on the strength of his personal achievement on the oval alone.

As Mecca is the objective of the devout Mohammedan so Latonia is expected to be the focal point of the annual pilgrimage to the shrine of the thoroughbred shank Saturday. The natural and artificial beauty of Latonia, added to the thrilling scenes that are enacted on the track, the cosmopolitan crowd that overflows the stands, and the sporting atmosphere that rises like an incense around this altar raised to horse-flesh, makes Latonia the most colorful spot in the country on the occasion of this annual derby running. The derby will be the crowning feature of the present turf program now

WHO SAID IT?

If asked who it was that dictated the famous cablegram, "We want Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead," the average American would doubtless answer without a moment's hesitation that it was Theodore Roosevelt; and if told that he was mistaken, he would probably be willing to lay a good wager on it. And yet he would be wrong.

The facts concerning the demand were told in full by William Roscoe Thayer, in his "Life of John Hay;" and Thayer was too close both to President Roosevelt and to Mr. Hay, his secretary of state, to be capable of making any mistake in such matters. It was the secretary of state, not the president, who formulated the dispatch and transmitted it to Mr. Gummere, the American consul at Tangier. And as authority for this, we have not simply the assertion of Mr. Thayer, but the following conclusive extract from the diary of Secretary Hay.

"June 23. My telegram to Gummere had an uncalled-for success. It is curious how a concise impropriety hits the public."

And further entries in the diary indicate the quick success of Hay's "concise impropriety," not only with the American public, but in Morocco as well:

"June 24. Gummere telegraphs that he expects Perdicaris tonight."

"June 27. Perdicaris wires his thanks."

No, Roosevelt didn't do it, and Hay did; but in all his service as secretary of state under Roosevelt's administration, Hay did no other single act as thoroughly Rooseveltian as this. The president must often have wondered how he came to let Hay beat him to it.

GERMAN IN THE SCHOOLS.

THE city of Cleveland has recently made provision for the teaching of German, as an elective subject in the high schools. The same thing has been done in various other cities, from the schools of which German had been excluded by official action taken during the World war.

While thoroughly approving of the restoration of this study to the high schools, as a possible subject for those who characterize its restoration to the public schools as "a return from war hysteria to sanity," Previous to the war, due rather to the influence of politicians with designs upon the German vote than to any general demand voiced by the Germans in America themselves, the study of German had been given a far larger place in the public schools of many American cities than was called for on justifiable educational grounds. And in only too many instances, this preferred position was used for other than legitimate educational ends. The feeling that led to the dropping of the study during the war period was not hysteria at all, but was thoroughly justifiable on grounds of sound American policy under then existing circumstances.

And the feeling that now permits the restoration of the language, not to its former preferred position, but as an elective in the high schools, on an equality with other elective studies, is likewise justifiable on grounds of sound American policy under the circumstances of today.

AUTOMOBILES

IN Cincinnati a girl swallowed poison because she could not meet a payment due on an automobile.

Now there are two kinds of suicide. There is the suicide caused by a form of insanity, brought on by depression or other causes and there is the suicide caused by cowardice.

It is safe to assume that the Cincinnati girl attempted suicide because of cowardice. She was afraid—not of what the automobile merchant would say when she was unable to meet the payment but that he would take the automobile from her.

There are many evils following in the wake of every good thing—and who can say that the automobile is not a good thing.

THE PANSY

There's something in a pansy's face So touched with beauty and with grace. So soft with lovely pity, I Can never heedless pass it by.

The richer roses lure me on With countless charms to look upon. They seem to say with scornful pride: "Why for such weaklings turn aside?"

"Why waste your time with such as they?" We are the fashion of the day! Look, we are roses! Yet you stand

And hold a pansy in your hand!" Oh, richer rose, with all your pride; Something to you has been denied; This humble pansy seems to be More like my own good friends and me.

I seem to know how hard it tries To come to favor in men's eyes, And in its beauty I can find Soft traces of a gentle mind.

'Tis like an old friend who has stayed Poor while his neighbors progress made.

And though I know the roses, I For old time's sake won't pass it by,

Flowers are like men. The proud disdain Those who in humbleness remain. Yet in the lowly pansy glows A soul as lovely as the rose.

GRID CANDIDATES MEET COACH KOLB AT INITIAL SESSION

Thirteen aspirants to fame on the football gridiron at Central High School this fall, answered Coach Victor Kolb's first call for back field and center candidates Wednesday night at the high school. Included in the turn-out was Bob Chitty, captain elect and backfield man.

Coach Kolb announced he is pleased with the initial turn-out and hopes to develop winning eleven this fall from the remnants of last year's team and new candidates.

The thirteen prospects received initial training in the rudiments of the grid pastime at the Wednesday meeting. Other meetings will be held from time to time, according to Coach Kolb.

The new mentor announced that the John Bryan Farm, near Yellow Springs, is being considered as a possible site for the summer training school of grid candidates the last two weeks before school re-opens this year.

In view of the fact that almost an entire new eleven must be developed from mostly green material, Coach Kolb favors the plan of a two weeks' training period to develop the Central athletes physically to enable them to bear up under the strain of a hard grind and a long hard schedule.

Camp equipment of the local Kiwanis Club may be available for the camp. It is said.

Realizing that a center and good backfield men are the bulwark of a team, Coach Kolb's first grid call was confined to aspirants for these positions. The remainder of the team will be built around these selections.

BROADCAST BY STATION WONES

George Sisler, manager and first baseman for the St. Louis Browns, was the first big leaguer to reach the century mark in base hits. He accomplished this feat last Saturday when he slammed out his one hundredth single in the game against the Athletics. Sisler's comeback is remarkable. After a year's layoff due to eye trouble, he just managed to bat .305 in 1924 which was a drop of 100 points or more. At the start of the present season he hit safely in thirty-four consecutive games. His weakness last year was to hit low balls but the A. L. twirlers have been unable to fool him as yet on the low delivery according to reports. To date he is hitting .366. Sisler has been leading batters in the American League twice since he has been in the big time. In 1922 he batted .420, which was his best mark, while two years previous he hit .407 and led the league for the first time. Besides being a good hitter he is also a good first sacker and fielded .984 last season. He was originally a pitcher but after Pittsburgh sold him to St. Louis he started playing the outfield and was later shifted to first base where he remained.

Owen Carroll, former star pitcher for Holy Cross College of Worcester, Mass., made his big league debut with the Detroit Tigers last week against Boston. He worked six innings and was knocked from the mound. Although Detroit rallied in the ninth and won the game Hollaway was given credit for the win as the score was 8 to 7 in favor of Boston when he was ordered to the showers. Carroll was a bit wild and did not pitch as steady ball as he is capable of. He walked four and hit two. While he was at Holy Cross he pitched fifty-three games and of this number he won fifty-one and lost two. Boston beat him once while Princeton nosed his club out 1 to 0. In the fifty-three games he scored eighteen shutouts. This season he won eighteen straight games for the Holy Cross outfit. He has speed, a nice drop and control that is above the average. He should get over.

Carl Mays, submarine ball hurler for the Reds, worked his first game of the season Tuesday at Chicago against the Cubs and was beaten. He pitched but one and one third innings and was treated rather roughly by the Cubs. He went in for Donohue with the score tied and retired the side but at the start of the next round Adams, Maranville and Freigau singled and broke up the ball game. During his short stay on the rubber he fanned one, hit one, retired two on foul flies while four got hits off him. Mays was leading hurler for the Queen City tribe last season winning twenty games and losing nine. He had an earned run average of 3.15. Considering that this is his first game since last fall he did not do bad and now that he is back again the Reds may yet be heard from.

John "Mandy" Brooks of the Chicago Cubs has shown to date that he is every bit as good a clouter as Stock, Bottomly, Hawks or Grimm. He has nine home runs to his credit, which is more than the above named men have and they have played in more games than Brooks. He is hitting .386 and fielding faultlessly. The Cubs got him from the Columbus A.A. club and paid $25,000 for him and it looks as though he is going to be worth it. He played good ball for Columbus in the A.A. hitting .342 and got seven homers. He was not looked upon to be a home run slugger but since he has been with the Windy City nine has gotten more circuit clouts than he did all last season in the A. A. He has played in about twenty games and considering this is his first year in big time he is doing very well and it looks as though he has a great future before him.

The Reds are not doing so well against the Cubs and of the eleven games they have played to date, have won but four. Rixey seems to be the most effective against them as he has best them twice. Sheehan and Donohue have also scored a win apiece over the Chicago tribe while Luque has lost three games to Killifer's nine.

XENIA GOLFERS ARE DEFEATED 2 TO 1 BY WASHINGTON CLUB

Playing on the strange nine-hole course, golfers of the Xenia Country Club lost their first inter-city match of the 1925 season to the Washington Country Club over the latter's course Wednesday afternoon by the score of 45 to 24, Nassau count.

The local club was represented by twenty-five players.

Several other inter-city matches are being arranged and will be announced later.

W. Crawford Craig, of the local club, shot the low score of the match over eighteen holes with an 88. Craig played the first nine in 45 and reduced this mark by two strokes in the final round for a 43. Incidentally Craig took all three possible points from his Washington opponent, Griffiths, who made a 92.

The local delegation was royally entertained at the Court House club.

BELLBROOK

Bellbrook will play a Dayton team on the home diamond Sunday June 28. Harry Higgins and family of Xenia were visitors in the village a short time Saturday night.

Hon. George H. Thorne of Spring Valley, was here circulating among his friends Tuesday.

Mrs. Eason Erhart is reported on the sick list.

Three items that appeared in "The Bellbrook Moon" each week for more than six months were "John Bell has commenced butchering," "John Bell has quit butchering," and "The stone pile is still to be seen in front of Patterson's Shoe Shop."

Mrs. C. L. Glessner left Monday for a week's visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rohrback, of Niles.

Sunday's game between the locals and "Dayton Bars" seemed about an even chance for victory on each side up until the last half of the seventh inning when the colored boys went to pieces under the onslaught of our sluggers who at will knocked the sphere to all parts of the field and crossed the plate eight time before their dusky competitors were about to stop the slaughter. A feature of the game was "Swatty's" home run which achieved material in the big score achieved. Score, Bellbrook 11, Dayton 2.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. T. M. Scarff, of Spring Valley were held for Alpha Stephens Sunday afternoon, one of the largest concourses of people in the town's history being present to pay the last tribute of respect to a worthy citizen. Mr. Stephens' illness began nearly one year ago from which time he gradually declined until last Friday morning when the grim reaper claimed his own. The deceased was about 36 years of age and was a hardworking industrious man, many times going far beyond his strength. He was a member of the Pr. O. U. A. M. Lodge. The order went through a short service at the grave. He leaves to mourn his loss his mother, Mrs. Ellis Sidenstricker, his wife and two children, Lonnie and Alice Stephens, also one brother, Harry Stephens.

Burial was made in Bellbrook cemetery. An interesting relic in the form of an ancient newspaper—"The Bellbrook Magnet," which recently came into our hands, brings to light many almost forgotten incidents that occurred about the village following the discovery of the famous Magnetic Springs more than forty years ago. This little spacy once-a-week publication bears the date May 17, 1884. It was edited by Professor John L. Elcock, and published by Edwin L. Tiffany. One of the outstanding features of this issue is a brief account of the generous whole-hearted manner in which our citizens responded to the call for help when our sister town of Jamestown was almost destroyed by a cyclone which left in its wake only misery and destruction. A solicit committee was appointed in the village and each of the school districts with the result that $474.05 was raised in only a few days. Those who composed the committee were: Adam Brown, A. F. Holmes, Wallace Berryhill, John Smith, Mollie Dearth, George Harman, Rolla Davis, Nathan James, James Seal, William A. Hopkins, Jacob Baroff and John Hopkins. All but four Wallace Berryhill, John Smith, Rolla Davis and Mollie Dearth, have passed from earth to their reward.

DRILLERS HIT GAS

Haydenville, June 25—Drillers for the Oldtown Oil and Gas Company got down only 225 feet on a site near Gore when they started to flow of gas. The well started to yield 250,000 feet of gas daily, and if this holds out, there is expected to be much more drilling in this district.

Rural organizations of Ohio and associations of taxpayers are to begin a struggle to cut more than $3,000,000 from the general property taxes of the state on the strength of the new balanced budget law which becomes effective shortly, it is said. An effort will also be made to require every county in Ohio to reduce its tax budget by $40,000.

The argument is found in the new Brown gas tax law which has been in effect for several weeks. By the terms of this law, 45 per cent of the receipts are to go to the state highway department, 30 percent to municipalities and 25 percent to be divided among the eighty-eight counties equally. On this basis it is estimated the county share will be $3,000,000 or nearly $40,000 for each county.

When the gas bill was instituted, local motorists who have been forced to pay the tax will recall, that the money to be collected was to be used on the highways in view of the fact that the motorists were benefited by it. The farm element is attempting to divert the funds collected to general use instead of

Contrary to the announcement that the Brown bill was passed with the provision that the money derived would be used exclusively to build and maintain roads, local students of the bill point out that the only result will be to maintain the roads just as they are..

Interpretations of the law have been made to the effect that dirt highways can be improved and repaired with the gas tax funds but can not be remodeled into gravel or hard surface roads.

Paving money must come through license fees and this amount will be sliced in half under the terms of the Brown law in 1926, with the result that property owners in rural districts who thought they saw a loop-hole and would escape the road assessment under the bill will be forced to pay as usual when a new road by necessity, is built.

-but we can get it for you!

It's pretty hard for us to gauge down to a gnat's eye-brow just what this community is going to want in hardware from month to month. Certainly we TRY to figure carefully but once in a while we slip up and the customer is disappointed.

But NOT FOR LONG!

Here's our promise—our method—our way of doing things:

We say: "BUT WE CAN GET IT FOR YOU!"

We have manufacturer's catalogs of just about everything a person can use in hardware. If the article requested is not in one catalog it's in another, and in most cases it takes only a very small time for us to get it, have it in stock and make you happy.

Surely we want you to take advantage of this headline of ours—"but we can get it for you." Its absolutely no trouble for us and it's a big convenience to you.

"WHEN THE WIND FRESHENS SPREAD YOUR SAILS!"

The Studebaker folks sure believe in THAT MOTTO! When reports by the THOUSANDS kept pouring in from all round the globe on the really dramatic success of the present line of Studebaker Cars, they figured it was time to quit having A ONCE A YEAR SAIL and just keep the sails they NOW HAVE! AND GO SOME!

No more "new models" for Studebaker—not any! BUT! Improvements and refinements will be made from time to time. New features will be added. When their engineering department (maintained at a cost exceeding a half million a year) devises an improvement in any model it will be made without referring to the calendar.

Owners everywhere report insurance records past our greatest expectations. Last year the corporation's sale of repair parts dropped to $10.00 per car per year! In mountain regions Studebaker sells FOUR TIMES its normal proportion of cars—for GOOD REASONS—so NOW—

A few jottings of the day by Samuel Pepys Jr.:—After nothing but sleeping and waking and getting little rest which I blame a mosquito which got into my room and stung me mightily, up, with a grouch. Anon to the office where got me a morning edition and, too, a few letters, though mostly bills they were.

Down Galloway Street watching how they are building the new houses. But beautiful to me are the new mansions on King Street with fine lawns; so that I have a fancy of building one like them some day, only not so handsome, Heaven knows.

Most of the day soaked with gloom, and of a truth I in no good humor all day long. Out by the golf course and through the hills, where I never was before; and find it a very fine place, only a little far out but good to look upon after being crowded in the city so long. On the way home met with Bob McKay, who works at the Xenia Country Club and he invited me to play golf, which I know nothing about.

Springfield, O., June 25.—The fifth annual Fourth of July celebration under the auspices of the local Fraternal Order of Eagles, which will be staged this year at the Clark County fairgrounds, is expected to be the greatest in the history of the event.

Eighteen vaudeville and circus acts, daylight fireworks, airplane and balloon ascensions and parachute drops, and a death defying "autos that pass in the air" act, will feature the afternoon observance, while a gigantic $2,500 pyrotechnic display will be presented during the evening.

A baseball game between the F. O. E. Athletics of the K. I. O. League and the Urbana team will be played at 9 a.m. at the Eagle field as the opening gun of the big celebration, and from then until the last rocket of the fireworks display fades away, there will be no let-up in the merrymaking.

Every plan and arrangement for the spectators has been taken by the committees in charge, and indications are that this year's event will follow all previous ones in being a huge success.

The Eagles have expended approximately $10,000 for this year's event, and if fair weather prevails it is expected that at least 25,000 persons will flock to the local fairgrounds for the annual celebration.

SCRAPS OF PAPER

Logan, June 25.—Two torn pieces of newspaper, which match, were said by dry raiders here to form the most important evidence when W. Ham Jordan was arraigned here on a moonshine charge after his home near here was raided. The officers found two barrels of mash near his home and a path led from the house to the place where the mash was found. Jordan was fined $200.

TY COBB IS HIGHEST PAID BALL PLAYER WALSH HAS LEARNED

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, June 25—Although the matter has been kept a profound secret for reasons not altogether clear, it developed today that Cobb is either the highest paid man in all baseball or runs the individual in question a very neighborly second.

Cobb, it seems, has a higher salary than George H. Ruth, Rogers Hornsby and Judge Landis, among others. On the very best authority, Cobb is said to be paid $60,000 a season for managing and playing centerfield for the Detroit ball club.

Just why they saw fit to whisper about the thing these several years is not for the writer's inadequate comprehension.

The Yanks megaphoned Ruth's contract as the largest in baseball and caught the vagrant eye thereby. Of course, they didn't want the publicity. It merely was forced upon them.

It had another effect, however. According to the writer's informant, it got Cobb his present salary. "This fellow Ruth gets $52,000," Cobb is said to have told Frank H. Navin, before he took over the Tigers. "Do you consider me the better ball player? You do? All right, then pay the better player for playing ball and managing the club at the same time."

Mr. Navin did.

Cobb's salary is only exceeded, on paper at least, by John McGraw's. John also owes his financial rating to the Ruth ballyhoo. At that time, the Giants and Yankees were engaged in a local war for patronage and publicity was as necessary as their coffee.

Deciding to go the Yankees one better, the Giants voted McGraw a yearly salary of $75,000.

BRINGING UP FATHER

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER LXXIX

The confidantes of pretty women usually are dull homely females. Bertha Beall was the nearest to a confidante that Lilah Menlow had.

Bertha didn't have the slightest taste in dress, and not the merest attraction for men.

She had become a schoolteacher by choice.

She had always been like that.

Bertha looked upon Lilah as a sort of younger sister, and Lilah's attitude toward Bertha was approximate that of a grown-up girl toward her old nurse.

Explain the phenomenon of their friendship and you explain most of the so-called friendships that exist between women.

Bertha was the first caller Lilah had after her return.

Lilah had not telephoned her, and she couldn't guess how Bertha had learned they were back, but she wasn't surprised when her friend arrived, for the schoolteacher always in some way, and usually in advance of all others, acquired every crumb of news having to do with her limited world.

"Mrs. Menlow!" she said, with false emphasis and a little giggle, as they met and kissed. "Why, Lilah, you're looking perfectly wonderful! I've never seen you looking so well! Married life is agreeing with you!" Another giggle.

They went into the library. A cheerful blaze was crackling around a small log in the fireplace. "They're engaged, you know, but Mrs. Early is trying to break it up. They went over to Marysville to a dance, and didn't come back until 9 or 10 o'clock the next day. Bob said it was because the car broke down; but why should Mrs. Early try to break up the engagement?"

"No?"

Bertha nodded. "I should think she'd be trying to get them married," she laughed.

Lilah only smiled.

"Well, I must be going. I only dropped in for a minute to see how you were. I'm coming over some afternoon to see your house. I've never had a good look at it."

"Do come! Can't you stay to tea now?"

"No, I mustn't. I promised Katherine Capper I'd run over."

Lilah knew that Katherine Capper would hear a lot about Lilah Menlow. She watched Bertha's ungainly figure disappear down the walk with a smile. She liked Bertha, but—

"So Abe's heart is broken," she mused, as she stood staring out the window.

Sheturned, walked into the hallway, and ran happily up the stairs.

Advance Statement to Automotive Trade about Wasson Motor Check Tests to be

Held in Xenia, O., Monday, July 6

THE much-discussed Wasson Motor Check is coming to conduct for local car owners the free Havoline oil-power tests which have made it a sensation everywhere it has gone.

The Motor Check works like X-ray on motor, transmission, rear end and brakes. It even measures the performance of gasoline oil.

You've heard "Oil is more than oil—it is power." The Motor Check revealed it. Trade papers discussed it. Newspapers broadcasted it. Car owners acclaimed it.

Automobile manufacturers heeded it and revised their lubrication procedure.

This announcement reveals just one side of the interest the Motor Check holds for automotive dealers. In a year, it has taught dealers and owners alike that oil means more than lubrication. It has shown the vital relation that oil has to power.

Havoline has shown that power goes up, 10 to 50 per cent., simply by changing from wrong oil to right oil. The Motor Check is here to prove it in any man's car.

Come and see the machine. Special trade showing starts one week in advance of opening to public. Bring a car. Get a free test.

Round up mechanics, drivers and salesmen. Don't let any important individual in your organization miss the Wasson Motor Check.

We have worked out this plan so that every dealer in town can get in on it
